

An inductee to The North American Fiddlers Hall of Fame, JJ Guy makes waves all across fiddle community! His performances while steeped in tradition, have taken fiddle music to a new and exciting level! Growing up in rural Saskatchewan surrounded by fiddle music, this tradition is now reflected in his own playing and his passion for the music. It is often said that "to hear JJ play is to witness a tune come alive."

JJ started out by performing at a young age in many shows and dances across the prairies and winning many fiddling competitions including the Saskatchewan Junior & Novice Fiddling Championship. Early on in his career he played and free-lanced with many bands in the bluegrass and country style.

Much of the winter months JJ gives workshops and performing across Canada, teaching fiddle to youth in Manitoba through the Frontier School Division, and for The Kole Crook Fiddle Association in the NWT. Summertime finds him featured at festivals, concerts and fiddle camps all across Canada from Nova Scotia to British Columbia and all stops in between. This extensive work schedule allows him to meet many fans, consequently, this has made him an attraction on the Canadian fiddle circuit!

His five fiddle albums, are full of lively traditional and original fiddle music and his musical collaboration with Gordon Stobbe called "Twin Fiddles" have released five albums and garnered a WCMA nomination. During 2020 JJ has started a popular weekly online streaming series called "Jamming with JJ", along with fellow musician Cathy Sproule which has streamed 135 weeks!

Winner of the People's Choice Award at the 2013 Canadian Grand Masters, nominated by the SCMA as "fiddler of the year", featured in publications such as The Prairies North Magazine, The Western Producer, Saskatoon Star Phoenix and Sasktel's "Max Magazine" and host of Access7 TV show, "Fiddling Around", there is always excitement around this musician
